- 6 Create standards of content
- 7 How to make people love you
- 8 Benefits of healthy social media presence
- 9 Benefits of healthy social media presence
- 10 Results/Statistics

THE PUBLICITY MACHINE

The People

- ★ Select 1-2 coordinators/overseers of content
- ★ Everyone else on staff can be contributors

The Workflow

- ★ Program Promotion form > Press Release > Facebook Event > Flyer > Everywhere else > Maximize Reach

The Results

- ★ Streamlined Content Creation allows approved language and images to be created at the beginning of the process and then utilized throughout the spectrum of promotional avenues
- ★ Oversight and editing starts at the beginning so we know that the facts are straight.
- ★ Flyer is distributed to all staff so everyone knows what's going on

PROGRAM PROMOTION FORM

The screenshot shows the Google Forms editor for the "Program Promotion Form". The interface includes a header with "QUESTIONS" and "RESPONSES 109". The form contains several questions:

- Form description
- What is your program called? * (Short answer text)
- What date and time is your program going to occur? * (Date and time picker)
- Will there be multiple occurrences of your program? If so, please list them. (Long answer text)
- What age group is your program for? (Radio buttons for Adults, Teens, Children)

The screenshot shows the Google Sheets interface displaying the responses to the Program Promotion Form. The spreadsheet has the following columns:

- Timestamp
- What is your program called?
- What date and time is your program going to occur?
- Will there be multiple occurrences of your program? If so, please list them.
- What age group is your program for?
- What specific audiences do you think your program will appeal to?
- Brief program description that could be used in press and promotional materials

No one can learn this ancient skill and create these delicious items in your kitchen fraction of the cost of store bought brands. You will learn to brew Kombucha, ferment pickles, and create quick and delicious snacks like salsa and popsicles that will appeal to even the pickiest of eaters! Come sample a variety of delicious fermented treats and learn why your diet should include fermented foods. Kits and supplies are available for sale to help get you started on your fermented food journey. Grandmaster Johnny Dayton will be participating through this ancient and beneficial practice. Tai Chi has been shown to help reduce high blood pressure, improve circulation, ease symptoms of diabetes and rheumatism, and more. Class will take place in the courtyard, weather permitting. In case of rain, alternative arrangements will be made. Parents in Tales is a program where children will read a book of their choosing to a certified teacher. Beginning, new, and struggling

Go Analog & Get Organized with Ferndale Library's first ADULTING 101 Program, Jan 11

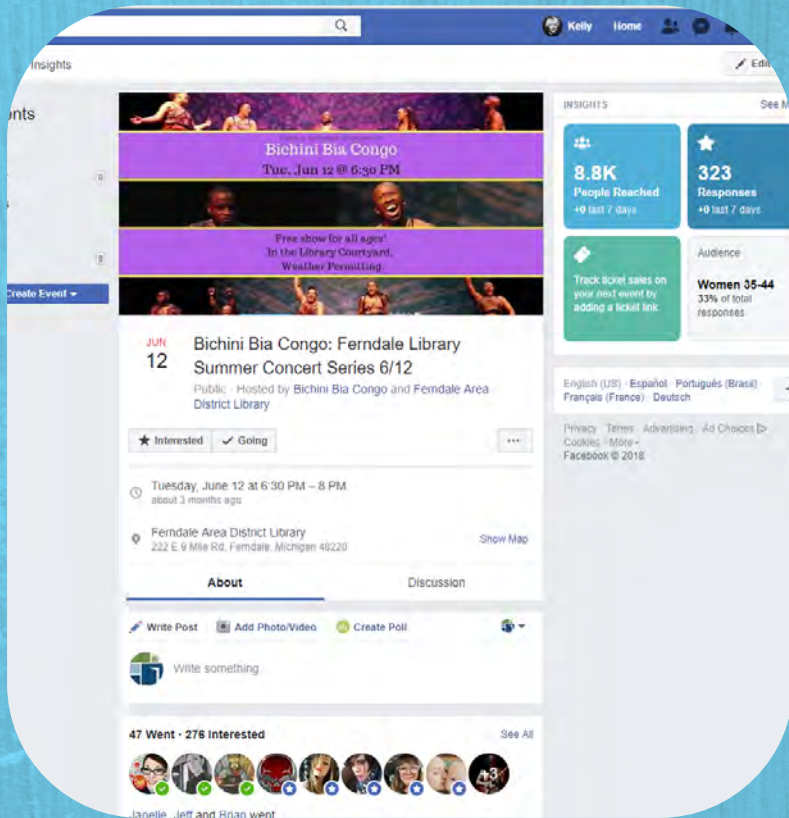

FERNDALE, Mich. (Dec 8, 2017)-- "Adulting" is a millennial phrase for when you want to make the mundane tasks of a typical daily grown-up's obligations more exciting. But on Jan. 11, when Ferndale Librarians Darlene Hellenberg and Michelle Williamson host the first in a series of Adulting 101 courses, they're inviting any generation to come learn fun, hip life hacks that can enhance several aspects of universal maturity, from housekeeping, to dinner parties, budgeting and beyond.

On Thu., Jan 11, Adulting 101 kicks off with the retro way of refining your daily planning: "Go Analog & Get Organized!" Everyone is attached to their smartphones or dependent upon iPads these days, but this program teaches you how to start your own bullet journal. Bullet journaling is a customizable system of handwritten itineraries, varyingly as a simple to-do list, a schedule or timetable, a sketchbook, a diary, or all of the above. This program will go over the basics and help you chart out a crystal clear New Year.

Local artist and letter design specialist Julia Stephenson will show you how to recover your penmanship skills from grade school, (you know, before we all started tapping out texts with our thumbs). Aesthetics is key to the craft of bullet journaling, because it becomes such a personalized activity--you're going to want it to be expressive, almost like a work of art!

But Hellenberg and Williamson know all adults like to kick back a bit, even when they're adulting. That's why there will be non-alcoholic mocktails served at each event, along with appetizers and door prizes.

THE FACEBOOK EVENT the core of our event promo

 Event description is succinct and searchable

 Invite people! They'll get updates even if they don't respond

 Events are easy to boost

Benefits of the Workflow

- 1 With oversight & editing at the beginning, wording & images can be shared freely and with minimal concern or involvement of programming staff
- 2 Early start gives the program time to build up interest. (Ideally, we start publicity 4-5 weeks before the date of the event).
- 3 Consistency across platforms made easy

PICKING YOUR PLATFORMS

Pick Your Platforms

- 🍊 Start small (1 or 2). If just one, Facebook is likely your best bet.
- 🍊 You can also use patron demographics or surveys to help you choose.
- 🍊 Make sure you have staff and time to manage whichever platforms you choose.
- 🍊 If you're looking to expand, think about who you're not reaching.

Facebook Post Scheduler

Plan Your Posts

- ☞ Start with themed days
- ☞ Decide how many posts a day you think you (and your audience) can handle
- ☞ A set schedule will allow you to be flexible, because you know you'll have something every day of the week, but there will be space around them to react to current events.

Our Themed Days

#MondayMotivation - Typically tied to library resources and library cards

#NewBookTuesday - Featuring new releases

#WhatsUpWednesday - Upcoming programs

#ThoughtfulThursday - Libraries' impacts on community and individuals

#BookfaceFriday - Always a charmer

#ShoutOutSaturday - tagging and applauding local businesses and organizations

#SundayFunday - Cartoons, puns and fun library related stuff

7 Days of Gardening Books

13 Days of scary books for Halloween

12 Days of Blitheness during December holidays

30 Days of Recipes for Thanksgiving or a Bake Sale

Try a Limited Series

*A week-long or month-long series gives your followers something to look forward to, and gives you a chance to explore a theme more thoroughly

*Consider involving more people on your staff for contributions to spread the workload, and the fun!

When to Post

When will your audience be scrolling through their social media?
Think of following the Breakfast-Lunch-Dinner schedule

Morning

Our first post on Facebook is usually up by 10 am, when the library opens during the week

Midday

Second post goes up between noon and 2 pm to catch the lunch crowd of followers logging on during their break

Late Afternoon/Evening

Third post as early as 4 or 5 pm, depending on the day. Many parents look at social media around 7-8pm when their kids go to bed. This can be an effective time to expand your reach.

When to Post Continued

Program Promotion Timing

-  Consistently refer to your upcoming programs, so that you can coordinate promotional social media posts
-  Post about your program for the first time 4-5 weeks from the date, linking to the Facebook event
-  We usually boost Facebook events 2-3 weeks from the date of the event
-  Boosting can be very effective. But don't do it with less than a week to go or you'll be wasting your ad dollars
-  Spread out your posts on a particular program to accumulate likes and shares without bombarding people

BACKSTAGE PASS

RULES AND STANDARDS

- 🍋 Set up some editing/oversight procedures, with a minimum of 1 other person reviewing posts
- 🍋 Editors can review press releases and look over pre-scheduled content which can be done with Facebook's post scheduling feature and with Buffer for Instagram
- 🍋 Images should be well-composed, clear and at least 200 dpi (you never know when you'll need to print one!)
- 🍋 Text should be well-written, succinct and attention-grabbing

- 🍋 Videos should be no longer than two minutes, and ideally 59 seconds so they can be used on Instagram
- 🍋 Consider developing a social media policy
- 🍋 Livestreaming is a compelling option
- 🍋 By only posting high-quality content, you show your followers that you take communicating with them seriously

Our patrons and community

Other libraries and communities

Non-patrons and social media fans

WHO ARE WE ENGAGING?

- 🍷 Our patrons, local organizations, businesses, civic groups, politicians and other libraries
- 🍷 We should also reach non-patrons. Your posts may even entice them to visit!
- 🍷 The wider your reach becomes, the more you start to engage people who aren't patrons or even residents. They might be interested in your collection, programs or even just your social media presence.

Consistency

Consistency builds your audience! You begin to hit the same target, which deepens the impression you're making.

TECHNOLOGY

WORTHWHILE UPGRADES

HARDWARE

Mevo Plus Live Event Camera
~$730.00

DSLR Still Camera ~$450.00

iPad ~$329-$559

If you've got grant money or the budget, updating your social media tech might breath new life into your online presence

Great pics and livestreaming initiate FOMO, which can bring people in to your next program

Never underestimate the power of a wifi hotspot! Especially when livestreaming.

CAMERAS

- 🍋 The best camera is the one you have with you
- 🍋 Consider wifi enabled cameras, DSLR (new and used) or medium quality point and shoot digital cameras
- 🍋 If you have to use your phone, learn the advanced features of your camera app to make your photo focused, framed and fascinating
- 🍋 Consider creating a stock photo collection of your library, so staff can have approved, high quality images for posts, press releases and annual reports

Adobe Premiere and
Photoshop~$239.88 per year
Premiere and Photoshop
Elements~$27.00

Canva ~ Free for non-profits

Buffer
50% off plans for non-profits
~$0-$200

WORTHWHILE UPGRADES SOFTWARE

Adobe programs will help create and edit professional looking photos, graphics and videos. Don't let the learning curve frighten you

Canva is the best thing to happen to our library since our millage passed. Amazing templates, cute graphics and platform-specific sizes

Buffer makes it easy for you to schedule posts, analyze performance, and manage multiple social media accounts in one place. We use it to pre-schedule Instagram posts

Don't forget about Boomerang (Instagram), Bitmoji (Snapchat), Layout (Instagram) and Facebook's scheduling feature. These tools within apps make your content more compelling and posting it even easier!

HERE'S WHY

Self-promotion is now part of the workflow

Re-emphasizing the value of your library, collection & staff

Fans of your library, even those who don't visit, will be up to date on new materials, hot programs and services, and important information in your community

If you've charmed them and made them love you, they'll think of the reality of the library (not a nebulous bookpile) the next time they vote, donate or simply recommend a place

BOOSTING

Ad image should be 1200x628 to fit without cropping or stretching

Boost at least 2 weeks away from event for decent results

At least $1.00 per day, $2.00 if you can afford it

Before boosting an event, make sure you've done your best with inviting people, posting about it multiple times and using effective tags

Be sure to narrow your audience by location and interests

If you've got emergency info to put out (closure, etc.)
consider boosting to get the word out faster

The screenshot shows the Facebook Boosting interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with targeting options for 'District 27', including location (United States: Berkley, Ferndale, Huntington Woods, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Michigan), age (18-65+), and interests (Music, Rock music, Live (band) or concert). Below this is the 'BUDGET AND DURATION' section, showing a total budget of $32.00 USD and an estimated reach of 79-320 people per day. The main content area displays a desktop news feed preview for the event 'First Stop Friday featuring Bogart - Oct 12' by the Ferndale Area District Library. The event poster features the name 'BOGART' in large white letters, the date 'FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12 @ 8PM', and the word 'FREE' in a black box. The poster also includes logos for 'FRIENDS OF THE FERNDALE LIBRARY PRESENT' and 'FFL'. Below the poster, the event details are shown: 'FRI, OCT 12 AT 7:30 PM', 'Ferndale Area District Library - Ferndale', and '42 people interested - 12 people going'. There are buttons for 'Like', 'Comment', 'Share', and 'Interested'.

For best results, use an image with less text than this. :)

"LIBRARIES ARE OUR FRIENDS" - NEIL GAIMAN

But we want MORE friends, Neil!

- 🍊 Let's tell our own story, every day!
- 🍊 We can make our own inspirational quotes
- 🍊 Let's be our own heroes, or at least heroes to our patrons!

THANK YOU!
